Dear <FIRST NAME>:

A thorough review of the <POSITION> position was done by the joint job evaluation committee (JJEC) and the decision reached is:

- minor/no changes have been made to the rating(s). The total point value for this job <increased from ### to ###/did not change>. The total point value of ### is still within the range of pay band #. Therefore there is no change to the pay grade for this job.
- ] the rating has gone up. The total point value for this job increased from ### to ###. The new total point value of ### is now within the range of pay grade #. Therefore your rate of pay will be adjusted retroactive to <insert date and reason to the date used>.
- the rating has gone down. The total point value for this job decreased from ### to ###. The new total point value of ### is now within the range of pay grade #. Therefore, you shall receive full red-circling protection for the duration of your tenure in this position.

The newly established job has been assigned a temporary rating.

The rating form has been attached to this letter to give you the rationale to our decision. Please feel free to contact one of the following JJEC representatives should you have any questions or concerns.

| Sincerely,                       |  |

Either the incumbents(s) or the manager may appeal the rating by submitting an appeal of rating form (Appendix D) to the executive manager of human resources. If an appeal is not submitted within sixty (60) days of receipt of the review decision and rating form (Appendix C) the evaluation of the job becomes final and binding. This would not apply in the case of an appeal of rating.
